

5 days

Adaptive Project Management

Managing for development results

ima
INTERNATIONAL

This practical training provides a fundamental overview of how projects can be structured, adapted, managed, and communicated more effectively.

Why choose this training course

This training course helps you to understand adaptive project management (APM) thinking and practices from a results and evidence-based approach. It introduces and explains the core stages of the project cycle, identifying and addressing design, implementation, and monitoring issues using appropriate tools and techniques. The adaptive focus is a deliberate approach in making decisions and modifications which respond to new information and changes in context. This course is ideal for anyone engaged in project planning, implementation and management. No prior knowledge is needed.

What you will learn

Through a mix of practical activities, theory and examples of effective practice you will learn to:

- communicate the importance of adaptive project management (APM) and a results-based approach
- identify, explain and use appropriate tools for different stages of APM to ensure effective and responsive project implementation management
- promote adaptive monitoring and reviews
- support and manage project teams to achieve enhanced project results
- recognise and strengthen learning, adapting and decision-making for better results.

Daily Course Objectives

Subject to change to reflect participants' needs.

Day 1

Project identification

- project identification
- policy context and issue identification
- stakeholder analysis and relationship management in all stages of the project cycle
- situation analysis.

Day 2

Project design

- understanding different planning approaches
- tools for field investigation and understanding complex, dynamic situations
- logic models and results frameworks.

“ I recommend IMA highly for their training. I benefitted greatly from the quality and depth of the training modules covered and the very practical approach taken. I know there are several tools and approaches I have learnt that I will apply in my work.

Zainab Ibrahim, Project Advisor, Care International, Sri Lanka ”

Day 3

Project appraisal & approval

- project appraisal
- value for money (VFM) and social return on investment (SROI)
- negotiations and engagement
- project contracting and procurement
- mobilisation and scheduling.

Day 4

Project implementation and monitoring

- methods for risk assessment and management
- project implementation and monitoring for results
- managing performance.

Day 5

Project reviews and adapting

- building in reviews, learning and adapting
- collective course learning
- personal action planning.

How long: 5 days

Cost: £2400

For the latest course dates, locations and booking deadlines please see our website or get in touch.

And for help and advice with planning your in-house training or consultancy needs contact us today.

IMA International

Drummond House
89 High Street
Hurstpierpoint
West Sussex
BN6 9RE, UK

post@imainternational.com

Book online at imainternational.com or call +44 (0) 1273 833030

